HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The preliminary tryouts for the oratorical contests to be held at the university Monday, April 5, were given Monday, afternoon before enthusiastic sudiences of students and patrons. Two contests will be held, one for the students who will deliver original compositions and the other for the students who will deliver original compositions and the other for the students who recite. The high school will be represented in both contests and will put up a hard fight for first honors next Monday. The tryout contests were held Monday in all of the bigh schools that had entered the final contest. The requirement of all who enter is that they were doing passable work in at least two-thirds of their course. The judges were L. L. Butter, A. H. Roberts and George Hedges. They rendered their decision in favor or Earnest Quayle for first place and Gue Backman for second place. The students who prepared original compositions were mostly from the senior class, there being but two juniors. The compositions were mostly from the senior class, there being but two juniors. The high school eadet battalion is doing extra work at drill in preparation for the raview that will be made by Admiral R. D. Evans Saturday afternoon. April 3. The eadets are in good shape and the standard attained last year during the San Francisco trip will soon be passed. The work of the battalion as a whole is good, but a number of movements in the manual of arms will have to be improved upon. All details for the review are not ret complete, but it will consist of a battalion parade and review and of extended and close-order movements. The entire affair will be in full dress. Captain Webb held a meeting of all officers Monday afternoon, when he inspected their uniforms and gave them a mort abber drill.

The debats work in the senior English dass is completed, but the entire period londay morning was spent in the renering of decisions by the judges and in seneral criticisms by Miss Moffett.

The athletic directors met Monday toon with Manager Fitzpatrick to decide upon an emblem for the basketball players. At one time caps were to have been diven, but there seems to be dissatisfarion among the directors over the mat-

The senior class is to hold a meeting luring the week, when the committee on ommencement will report. The class includes to give an elaborate programme and early work is necessary.
